July/August 2018

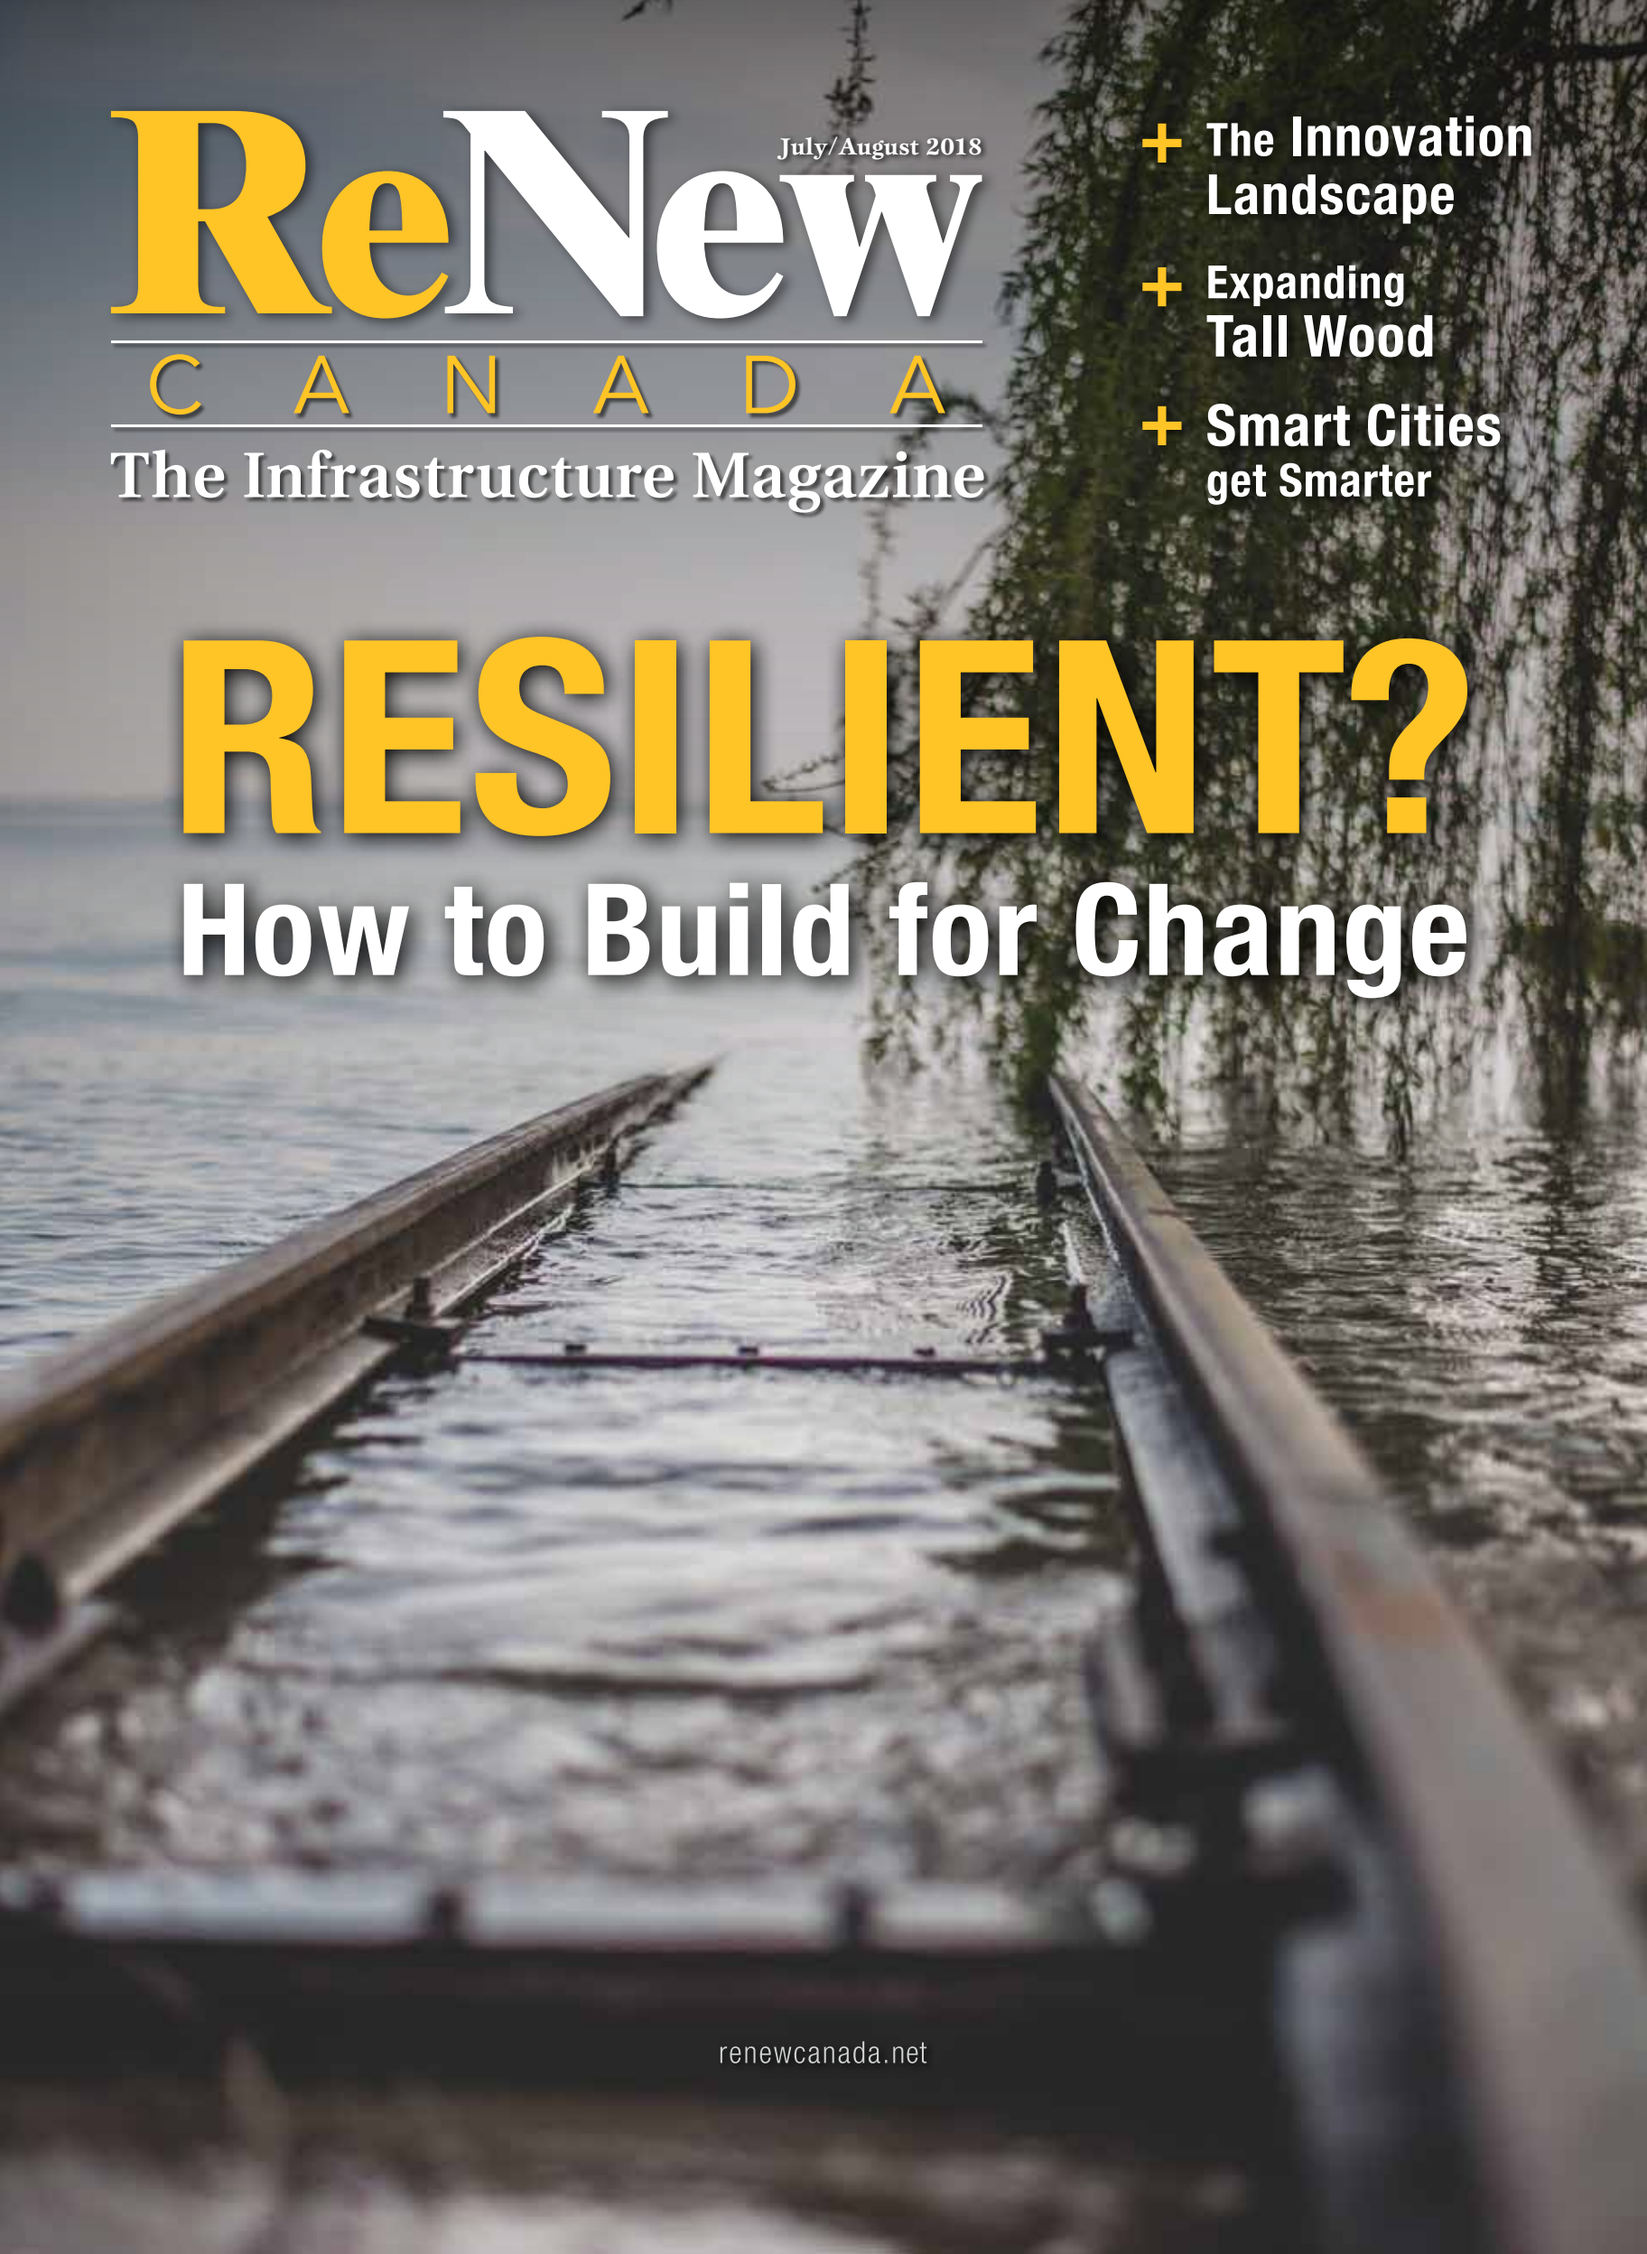
ReNew CANADA

The Infrastructure Magazine

+ The Innovation Landscape
+ Expanding Tall Wood
+ Smart Cities get Smarter

RESILIENT?

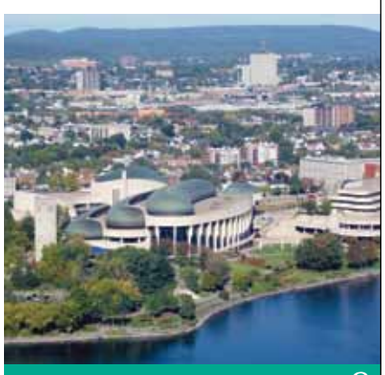
How to Build for Change



renewcanada.net

14

29



8

26

34

ReNew CANADA
The Infrastructure Magazine

JULY/AUGUST 2018

POLITICS

8 The Quebec Moment
How this year's election in Quebec could be a watershed moment for the province.
By John Allen

12 Northern Development
Understanding the challenges and opportunities of building infrastructure in Yellowknife.
By Andrew Macklin

PLANNING

14 Building in Resilience
Metrolinx discovers the steps it must take to make it's regional transit system resilient.
By Andrew Macklin

16 Developing Smart Cities
How innovative approaches are building the urban centres of the futures.
By Carl Bodimeade and George D. Thomas

18 The New Transit?
As the Town of Innisfil celebrates the success of its Uber-based transit model, should other communities across Canada follow its lead?
By Andrew Macklin

TECHNOLOGY

20 Siting Success
The adoption of 3D modelling is helping contractors across the country build better infrastructure.
By Jason Haas and Ivanka Iordanova

24 Reducing Contract Risk
How properly-implemented O&M software is helping P3 projects succeed long term.
By Kyle Book

26 The Innovation Landscape
Evaluating the new technologies that are changing, and improving, the way infrastructure projects are built.
By Barry Kelly

DESIGN

29 Learning by Building
Canada's first tall wood infrastructure projects are providing the institutional knowledge needed to expand its use.
By Don Proctor

32 A Safe Way to Cross
Using innovation to improve the safety of engineered rail crossings.
By Artem Ivantchouk

34 A National Architecture Policy
How a new approach to architecture could improve the quality of the buildings we build.
By John K. Stephenson

TOP100 PROJECTS

38 The most significant developments impacting infrastructure megaprojects included on our 2018 Top100 Projects report.

DEPARTMENTS

4 Editor's Note
Andrew Macklin wants to change our perception of what buildings should look like.

5 Front
Glenn Miller challenges current perceptions of the eventual integration of autonomous vehicles.

22 Panorama
Innovating with Concrete

39 People & Events
Appointments, announcements, company news, and event reports.

42 Closing Shot
Todd Latham on whether the government's pipeline purchase changes the definition of public sector infrastructure.